<sup>so unexpected</sup> <sup>ill</sup>

I had no idea of giving you an opportunity of my dear David of fulfilling those Desires which I named with gratitude. But if you will read the enclosed or give the ideas to Mr. H. it will gratify me. I do not wish to change the deed to Robert till I can be acquainted with his powers to benefit his parents. I do suspect the very pieces in intention, he is fated to be very limited. Besides Mrs. H's by the Dr tells me (who does not think Robert's plan deriviable) is rather more likely to terminate in a year than continue, and then I shall like to secure a home here which I think may be consistent with the family's comfort. But of this I need not beg you to be silent. Why cannot you give ~~it~~ <sup>if you</sup> think my plan ought the property of it to T. W. H. He has put the return in force.
Since I wrote the enclosed I conceived with with Mr H. and he seemed entirely of my opinion.

I repeated that whenever he wished to call any of the Tans he might use my hand & seal.

~~You would consider this Dr. of his duty a position that~~ ~~is worthy for you to give it to his mother.~~ Perhaps your son Mr. Clark had better say nothing
- He's likely he has talked it. I find this a pleasant home & with all its little trials (such as I laugh at when others are satisfied) much better than such an odd body and devoid. Many such I can have among my folks this way - that I offer to clear out ~~them~~ if they prefer paying the interest, and it will meet and extinguish those sensations with ink under long continuance of the same impressions. I am the more per-turb'd - as William is gone you must make out my mittimus if I should fancy one for the publick.

Well I cannot but feel when all alone at the most importance of procuring the necessities of life for my Antient self who thinks his self so forfeited. I have made erasures - write in facts as Robert's proposal was of unexpected at this moment I want to say of your com<sup>t</sup> but I can't W. P. H. is going this mornig. I can only say that I was glad I was not there. The peradise you can imagine

- for you know I don't believe over enough under the exertments of pride.

These to and fro's interest as soon as convenient when due. Farewell your affec & oblyd The answer to this I do <sup>answ</sup> with gmt, like as soon as convenient & have said nothing of the only it to Mr & Mrs Ripley - the sooner exposed such things the better. They are not able to judge probably.
